Contact Information

Main Instructor: Dr. Lorenzo Rossi
Assistant Professor of Plant Root Biology
UF/IFAS IRREC (Horticultural Sciences Department)
Telephone: (772) 577-7341
Email: l.rossi@ufl.edu

Teaching Assistants: Mr. Lukas M. Hallman
Ph.D. Student
UF/IFAS IRREC (Horticultural Sciences Department)
Telephone: (772) 577-7340
Email: lukas.hallman@ufl.edu

Guest Lecturer: Mr. Clemen De Oliveira
Ph.D. Candidate
UF/IFAS GCREC (Entomology and Nematology Department)

Office hours: online conferencing via canvas/zoom (by request)

Lectures: 100% Online course. Each week there is a block of content available with specific due dates.

Contacting the Instructor and the Teaching Assistant:

Questions about class materials or content: Please use the discussion boards in Canvas for all questions about class mechanics or content. If you have a question about the class or subject material, others probably share the same question, and posting it to the discussion boards allows everyone to see the question and answer, just as if you had raised your hand in class and asked the question. If you use email to ask a general class related question, you will be asked to post your question on the appropriate board, and it will be answered there. Please do not use the discussion boards for questions about specific quiz questions on a quiz that is still open, as others may not have taken the quiz yet and would have an unfair advantage by seeing the questions ahead of time.
Individual questions, problems, or appointments: Please use the email function in Canvas to communicate with the instructor and TA during the semester, rather than regular university email, except in extreme emergencies. Email and phone messages delivered on weekdays (M-F) will generally receive a reply within one business day (24 hours). Messages may not be checked between 5:00 pm Friday and 8:00 am Monday; messages received over the weekend will generally receive a response on Monday. If I and/or the TA plan to be out of the office or otherwise unavailable, I will post an announcement on the class website.

Questions about Grading: This is a large class, and we work as a team to manage the various components. The course TA do the grading on the discussion assignments. The TA is a graduate student and apprentice instructor. If you have a question or concern about your discussion post grades, please contact the TA first. If you have an issue that cannot be resolved with your TA, your course instructor will be happy to work with you both to reach a satisfactory understanding. For questions about exam grades, please contact your main instructor. For questions about course concepts, including quiz questions, both the instructors and the TA are ready to help!

Technical support: If you experience difficulties with accessing components of the site, including lectures, quizzes, or tests, contact the UF help desk immediately. If they are not able to resolve your problem, contact the instructor with your help desk ticket number and a description of the problem and steps taken to resolve it. Extensions for due dates will be granted for documented technical problems, as needed.

Course Description: The aim of this course is to provide a complete view of the rhizosphere and its unique functioning that implies numerous, strong, and complex interactions between plant roots, soil constituents and microorganisms. Furthermore, the course focuses on current discoveries and achievements in plant root science and presents and discusses the future challenges that root, and rhizosphere research is facing. Topics cover root structure and architecture, function, regulation; and root and rhizosphere response to varying environmental conditions, including interactions among microbes, mycorrhizae, micro fauna, fungi, soil heterogeneity, biogeochemical cycles, biotic and abiotic stresses, and emerging contaminants.

Knowledge prerequisites: This is an advanced course which examines the interactions between plant root system and the environment. To be successful, students should have a general knowledge of biology, botany, microbiology, and soil chemistry.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

After successful completion of this course, students will be able to:
- Recognize key anatomical and morphological features of plant roots.
- Describe main physiological and biochemical responses in the root system.
- Identify the role of plant roots in the global context of soil development and atmosphere composition.
- Classify and recognize root-derived products.
- Compare different root system architectures.
- Describe root responses to biotic and abiotic stresses.
- Explain key root-rhizosphere interactions, from beneficial microorganisms to detrimental nematodes.
- Recommend modern research techniques for field and lab studies on plant roots.
- Locate, appraise, and assimilate evidence from recent scientific studies related to plant root science.

Quizzes

At the end of each module, a specific quiz will assess the student’s learning. Ten questions related to each module will be available. Students will have 2 possible attempts. 7 points will be available for each question, for a total of 70 points per quiz.

Discussions

At the end of every other week, a discussion board with a specific prompt will be ready for the students. Students will not be able to read posts made by other students until after they have already completed and submitted their own post. Each submitted post should consist of 500 words or less and must address all parts of the prompt. Each student will also be expected to post a reply to at least two other students’ posts to receive credit. Poor quality submissions will receive partial credit. The grading procedures of the discussion will follow this rubric:
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Criteria</th>

Total Points: 60

Exams

There will be 3 exams in this course. All three exams will have 5 questions. 60 points will be available for each question in Exam 1 and 2, and 74 points will be available for each question of the Final Exam, for a total of 370 points. Students will have 7 days to start the exam, and once started, they will have 12 hours to complete it.

Exams

1) First Exam
2) Mid-Term Exam
3) Final Exam

Content covered

- Modules 1-5
- Modules 6-10
- Modules 11-15

Assignment breakdown

- 15 Quizzes
- 15 Discussions (15 prompts, 15 replies)
- 2 Exams
- 1 Final Exam

Points × Number of assignments = Total Points

- 70 × 15 = 1050
- 60 × 15 = 900
- 300 × 2 = 600
- 450

Course organization

The module material of a given week will be made available the Saturday of the week before. Assignments will be due on the Friday of a given module week.

Module 0: Introduction to the course
Module 1: Definition of the rhizosphere and origin of roots
Module 2: Root structure, functions, and modifications
Module 3: Regulation of root growth
Module 4: Classification and function of root derived products
Module 5: Root exudates and mineral nutrition
Module 6: Root system architecture and nutrient acquisition
Module 7: Legume-Rhizobia symbiosis
Module 8: Mycorrhizal fungi and nutrient acquisition
Module 9: Plant growth promoting rhizobacteria
Module 10: Drought and salt stress
Module 11: Heat and flooding stress
Module 12: Trace metals and emerging contaminants stress
Module 13: Stresses caused by pathogens
Module 14: Modern research techniques for field experiments
Module 15: Modern research techniques for laboratory experiments

COURSE POLICIES

Attendance and Make-up Policy

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at:

Academic Honesty

As a student at the University of Florida, you have committed yourself to uphold the Honor Code, which includes the following pledge: “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.” You are expected to exhibit behavior consistent with this commitment to the UF academic community, and on all work submitted for credit at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

It is assumed that you will complete all work independently in each course unless the instructor provides explicit permission for you to collaborate on course tasks (e.g. assignments, papers, quizzes, exams). Furthermore, as part of your obligation to uphold the Honor Code, you should report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. It is your individual responsibility to know and comply with all university policies and procedures regarding academic integrity and the Student Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code at the University of Florida will not be tolerated. Violations will be reported to the Dean of Students Office for consideration of disciplinary action.

- For more information regarding the Student Honor Code, please see: http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sscr/process/student-conduct-honor-code

Software Use

All faculty, staff and students of the university are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against university policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken when appropriate.

Canvas Technology Requirements

Computers, Internet, and Web browsers: Canvas runs on Windows, Mac, Linux, iOS, Android, or any other device with a modern web browser. It is recommended to use a computer less than five years old with at least 1GB of RAM. It is recommended to have a minimum Internet speed of 512kbps. It is strongly recommended to not use a wireless connection, phone, tablet, or notepad for critical course tasks such as exams and discussions.
Canvas currently supports the following browsers: Chrome, Safari, Firefox, Edge. Canvas supports the last two versions of most browsers. It is highly recommend updating to the newest version of whatever browser you are using. Note that your computer’s operating system may affect browser function. Failure to use one of these browsers will cause problems.

For more information on approved computers and browsers please visit:

On this web page there is an area titled “Is My Browser up to Date?” Use it to check each computer and browser you may use in this course. There is another important area on “Browser Privacy Settings.” Read the section(s) for any browser intended for use. For example, Note that: In browsers such as Safari, insecure content will never be displayed in the browser. Return to the page to check for updates on technology issues in Canvas.

If you encounter technical difficulties in this course, contact the UF Computing Help Desk right away to troubleshoot. https://helpdesk.ufl.edu/ or (352) 392-HELP. If the problem cannot be fixed immediately, notify your instructor, and provide them with the Help Desk ticket number.

Services for Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

• Disability Resource Center, 0001 Reid Hall, (352) 392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/

Campus Helping Resources

Students experiencing crises or personal problems that interfere with their general well-being are encouraged to utilize the university’s counseling resources. The Counseling & Wellness Center provides confidential counseling services at no cost for currently enrolled students. Resources are available on campus for students having personal problems or lacking clear career or academic goals, which interfere with their academic performance.

Course Evaluation Process

Student assessment of instruction is an important part of the effort to improve teaching and learning. At the end of the semester, you are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course using a standard set of university and college criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at:

• Course evaluations, www.evaluations.ufl.edu

Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester. You will be notified of the specific times when evaluations for this course are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at:

• Evaluations summary, www.evaluations.ufl.edu/results

Student Complaints

You can file and resolve any complaints about your experience in this course in the following site:

• Student complaints in residential courses, https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/
